

Synopsis

Three successful women who all great friends are having relationship problems.

Michelle 31, African American salon and spa owner is dating a man by the name of Quincy, but everyone calls him Q. Q is a deadbeat and is living off of his girlfriend Michelle. Michelle has been optimistic and patient with Q about getting his life back on track. She is humble and understanding regarding Q having a hard time finding work, because of his criminal background. Michelle is prepared to stand by her man Q no matter what anyone say about her man, until a secret is revealed... This secret changes Michelle from being Q's number one fan into one angry bitch!

Monica 32, African American nurse, the oldest of the group is having a problem finding a man who meets her standards. Monica who is a no non-sense and very straightforward person finally meets the man of her dreams named Lamar. Monica finds out Lamar is married and confronts him. Even though Monica is strong willing, she tends to get weak over him and put herself in a position she never thought she'd be in. What Monica thought was love, she's faced with finding out that she is only a jump off. Monica refusing to let Lamar get away with playing with her heart, things get heated and very confrontational. Which turns Monica into one angry bitch!

Amber 30, Caucasian woman and the head supervisor for the insurance company Prudential Life. Amber is actually happy in her relationship, with an African American man, by the name of Maurice. They find that being in a bi-racial relationship has become one of their biggest challenges. It's been hard for them to deal with the criticism and finding that racism still exists in the 21st century. They are very supportive with one another when it comes to fighting back, but they are faced by the biggest challenge of them all. Amber finds out that the people she loves and turns to for support are the most prejudiced of them all. This fight turns Amber into one angry bitch!
